WHY SUBSCRIPTION?

Your small or medium business' IT department is under increasing pressure to do more with less while dealing with an ever-increasing variety of systems and data types. With Acronis Backup and Acronis Backup Advanced's subscription licensing models, your company can enjoy attractive pricing and eliminate the burden on the balance sheet by shifting capital expense investments (CAPEX) to operational expenses (OPEX). Best yet, your organization can back up more data, back up more systems, and back up more business.

Acronis subscription licensing is very straightforward. One solution protects any virtual or physical system and applications, which significantly simplifies the procurement process.

WHAT IS THE SUBSCRIPTION LICENSING POLICY?

An Acronis subscription is available in one-, two-, and three-year options to suit your specific business needs. You simply get the necessary number of licenses for each of your systems.

HOW DOES IT WORK?

You receive special subscription license keys — allowing you to install the software on any supported physical or virtual system.

HOW DOES IT COMPARE TO TRADITIONAL PERPETUAL LICENSING?

Subscription licenses cover all supported operating systems and applications without any limitations. For example, with an Acronis Backup Advanced for Server subscription, you can protect any physical server (Windows or Linux), any virtual host (VMware, Hyper-V, Xen, KVM, RHEV, Oracle VM), and all applications on the server (Exchange, SQL, SharePoint and Active Directory). You also get 24/7 technical support and free upgrades to new versions.

I ALREADY HAVE AN ACRONIS BACKUP LICENSE WITH MAINTENANCE. CAN I CONVERT TO A SUBSCRIPTION?

Yes, you can convert your perpetual license to a subscription. You will get all the subscription benefits such as support for any operating system and application.
